

Press Release 2007 / 14

A successful After Sales idea is back for the second time: On Friday, May 25 2007, HanseYachts will be announcing their summer hotline 2007

Greifswald, May 24, 2007. This is the second year that HanseYachts AG is offering their customers this special service. During the 2007 sailing season, the After-Sales-Summer-Hotline is offering all Hanse owners a telephone helpline even on the weekends.

Please call +49-162-219 40 58 on Saturdays and Sundays between 9 am and 7 pm to get professional answers to all your questions. Be it technical questions or repair help after a collision, Hanse puts Customer Service first and fills the term After Sales with a new meaning.

Whatever the problem might be and wherever you are calling from, the professionals in our After Sales, Manufacturing, and Purchasing departments in Greifswald will either help you directly or promptly refer you to one of our competent dealers worldwide.

“Even though we did not receive many calls, our service was very well received”, was the conclusion reached by experts at HanseYachts. “Enough reason to offer this service again and to expand it further.”

Hanse’s weekend hotline proved to be an extremely valuable tool in providing replacement parts quickly, answering technical questions and helping with necessary repairs. Hanse owners awarded it only the best grades.
