PRESSEMITTEILUNG / PRESS RELEASE

A continuing success story: Moody Deck Saloon Yachts

Moody 62 DS – the fully specified M62DS will be on the market this summer.

The Moody 45 Deck Saloon is already successful around the world. This summer, the M62DS will follow suit.

DS means exactly that: a true deck saloon yacht. The deck house roof extends right over the cockpit. Separated only by the full width sliding glass doors, the saloon and cockpit combine to provide a living space on one level. Rain or shine? Press a button and the electric sliding roof covers the cockpit to provide a truly 'alfresco' living space.

Moody yachts are well known for offering comprehensive solutions, and the M62 DS is no exception, so the standard boat is fully equipped and specified.

Many items that would normally be extras are provided as standard. For example, life jackets, a toolbox, spare parts packages, and even the cutlery and crockery for 8 people are included in the specification. The well planned, spacious and stylish accommodation includes features like our special mattresses, which ensure a really refreshing night's sleep. On the water, electric winches, an in-mast furling mainsail, a chart plotter and autopilot make for easy handling and relaxed sailing.

The 62DS has been engineered to the very highest standards to ensure perfect operation of all systems. Moody have installed a CANbus system, the latest technology available for easy, safe and centralised operation of electrical and electronic equipment.

The high specification does not limit the choice for prospective owners. Many different design layouts allow them to create their own individualized deck saloon yacht.

Moody is based on almost 200 years of British boat building tradition and the brand has always been associated with reliable and innovative concepts. The Moody deck saloon line builds on this tradition and takes it to an entirely new level.
